

Adverbs

An adverb tells you more about another word in the sentence.

- Adverbs answer the questions: how, when, where or how much.

Adverbs of manner (How?)	Adverbs of time (When?)	Adverbs of place (Where?)	Adverbs of degree (How much?)
slowly, fast, loudly, carefully, beautifully, well	after, before, never, today, yesterday	away, inside, everywhere, upstairs	extremely, very, really, quite, terribly

- Sometimes prepositions do the work of adverbs. Examples:
I put the balls inside. (Inside is an adverb of place.)
The balls flew up. (Up is an adverb of place.)

- Pick an adverb from each category in the above table and write a sentence about the planets. Example: The planets turn slowly.

Simple and complex sentences

A simple sentence has one subject and one verb.

A complex sentence is made up of clauses – it has a main clause and at least one subordinate clause.

Main clause	Subordinate clause
It has a subject and a verb. It makes sense on its own.	It has a verb, but it does not make sense on its own.
Noor could not remember although she studied hard
